PRIMARY MANUSCRIPTS

- Each of the manuscripts is a book, on its own. It has its own Table of Contents and documentation.
- The primary manuscripts are true-life stories.

“JACOB’S ODYSSEY” – Memoir [366 pages, excluding documentation]

It is a true story of Jacob Sternberg’s life in five countries, three continents for over 84 years. He was:

- A Holocaust Survivor
- A Driftwood of World War II
- An Israeli Paratroop Officer
- A U.S. University Engineering Professor – (NYU-Poly)
- Inventor, CEO of High-Tech Companies

“TROLLERS’ WARS” [88 pages, excluding documentation]

It is a true story of Theodor H. Troller II (“TTII”) and his family spanning 97 years (1903-2000). Structured as a play.

TTII was:

- A World-Class German Aerodynamic Scientist/Inventor
- Brought to the U.S. (1931) to head the Guggenheim Institute by Von-Karman (born Jewish, first receiver of the U.S. Medal of Science)
- Recruited by the U.S. Military (1945) to convince/cajole/bribe/otherwise force to direct German scientists to U.S.
- Received Roosevelt’s Commendation

When Jacob married TTII’s daughter (Christina), TTII disinherited her.
The two primary storylines merged into a single saga

- TTII did not acknowledge his Jewish ancestry, his father (“TTI”) died in Theresienstadt Concentration Camp (as a “Privileged Jew”). His grandfather was a Rabbi in Prague. His daughter became Jewish and wrote the Holocaust definition paper, among other papers.
- TTII spent nearly 50 years as a rancher “in the middle of nowhere, U.S.A.” He was a smart “survivalist,” a great inventor for U.S. Defense. Until 1960, every ship and plane (military or civilian) had parts invented by him.

SUMMARIES OF PRIMARY MANUSCRIPTS

Summary of “Jacob’s Odyssey”

Summary of “Trollers’ Wars”

Both primary manuscripts are used as “Nurseries” (or “hatcheries”) for films, plays and documentaries.

COMPANION MANUSCRIPTS

Each of the five companion manuscripts are complete books (true and/or fictional story lines – fully identified).

“The Ride on America’s [142 pages], excluding documentation] Business Highway” A true stories collection of Technological Achievements by Jacob-run companies case studies

“The Applicants for Sainthood [241 pages], storyline of a fictional MidEast war, not farfetched]

“ The Khelm Revolutions” [188 pages], storyline of a fictional rapidly developing “Progressive” northwestern U.S. city]

“Winning” [97 pages], a WWIV-related fictional story (expected to be in progress shortly) not farfetched, structured as a play]

“The Rabbi of Khelm” [105 pages], essentially comparing like stories of the perceived (by Jewish lore) as the dumb and funny Polish Jews of Chelm and the fictional U.S. city (progressive to the hilt) Khelm].
Guess who wins?

The role of companion manuscripts is to buttress the storylines of the primary manuscripts, providing explanation, expanded data and scope. Together with opinion pieces, companions provide, for the eyewitness reports, the witness’ “cloaked” views, positions, and many a time, prejudices.

The companion manuscripts can also become “Nurseries” for documentaries and opinion pieces.

PGC-Selected Stories to Remember

Otto Skorzeny – The highest medal winner in the German Army, Hitler’s favorite Security Expert, dies a Mossad agent

The Best Redemption Story Ever

(Bernd Wollschlager, M.D.) – The son of a dedicated Nazi father, determines how to be redeemed and execute precisely his incredible plan!!!

“Goodbye to Prof. B” – Dr. Bencion Pinchuk and JS debated for over 70 years, all matters mundane and incredible. He elegantly won most of the debates.

“The Tears of Krasnodar”– A very short true story illustrates why the U.S.S.R. miserably failed. JS is a witness.

Author Selected Media Coverage

We relegate The Long List of Media Coverage to the Directory which deals with Coverage of Achievements by major characters covered in the Knowledge Base.

We relegate the various assessments (of PGC as a company, its Founders, its major story lines’ characters, the potential glitches in the implementation of its plans) to separate writeups. PGC’s website will significantly aid the navigation to various topics treatment, including “raw,” original documentation. These consists of letters, tapes, reports and other official papers.
